GARRETT HIGH SCHOOL
GARRETT, INDIANA
VOLUME XLVIII

AS TIME GOES BY the year 1966 will hold different memories for each of us. The seniors will remember this as their last year. It was the year when decisions and actions would decide their futures. Making money for the banquet kept the juniors busy. They will always cherish their class rings as a symbol of this year. The sophomores chose class sweaters and jackets. These became an emblem of their status at Garrett High School. For the freshmen 1966 was the year when they established a position at GHS. They participated in clubs and tackled academic subjects for the first time. The eighth graders were more familiar with the procedure this year. Confused and bewildered at first, the seventh graders gradually learned the routine at GHS. What each of us will remember may be different, but none of us will forget 1966 AS TIME GOES BY.

IN SCHOOL LIFE

Miss DeKalb County, Cathy Barcus, smiles from her float in the parade at the County Fair.

Baseball games, swimming, and casual dates were all a part of summer 1965 in Garrett, Indiana. The highlight of the summer was the crowning of Miss Garrett during the annual Sidewalk Days.

The beginning of school was mixed with new faces and unchanging traditions. Football games were of prime importance during the first two months of school. The conference crown, the Auburn Game, and many spirited pep rallies are memories of this season.

At the County Fair Miss Garrett, Cathy Barcus, was chosen Miss DeKalb County, and Cyndy Brechbill reigned as 4-H Queen.

The annual Magazine Drive was a success, as the goal of $3,500 was surmounted.

As Teachers' Institute approached and students eagerly anticipated a vacation, it was plain to see that this year was off to a wonderful start.

Sidewalk Days, Fun Highlight Summer

Miss Garrett and her court included Nancy Capin, Kathy Campbell, Becky Schurr, Claudia Miller, Janice Casey, Miss Garrett 1965; Cathy Barcus, Miss Garrett 1966; Kay McKee, Cindy Lewis, Mary Lynn Neukom, and Tina Lung.

Denny Feagler comes up for air during a swim meet at the Garrett pool on the Fourth of July.

School Mixed with Work, More Fun

Reserve cheerleaders Tina Wysong, Diane Capin, and Janie Wheeler hold up an effigy of an Auburn Red Devil which was burnt at the snake dance.

Chairman of the Magazine Drive, Steve Mulligan, records the sales of each class during the annual Magazine Drive, sponsored by the Student Council.

Every GHS'er has to make decisions. It is especially hard for eighth grader Debbie Andrews, as she decides what books she will need from her locker to begin the day.

School Routine Progresses Smoothly

Several boys enjoy a volleyball game as a part of the recreation provided to students during their lunch period.

Along with much extra-curricular activity, the school routine also continued. This year activity period was moved to the end of the day, preceeded by six periods of class. This period was set aside for club meetings, homeroom activities, and frequent pep rallies.

Classroom periods were regulated by the bell, which sounded at the end of fifty-five minuted and resulted in students rushing to lockers and another class beginning five minutes later.

During the half-hour lunch break recreation was provided in the auditorium.

Senior Steve Lewis, looking to his future, seeks information on the college of his choice from the files in the guidance office.

Members of the Football Queen's Court were Carol Roebel, junior; Ethel Finn, sophomore; and Debbie Westland, freshman.

Kay McKee, a senior, was crowned 1965 Football Queen during the halftime of the Concordia game.

Kay McKee Reigns at Fall Homecoming

The second annual Football Homecoming was observed during ceremonies at the halftime of the Concordia game.

The football team chose four girls, one from each class, as candidates. The student body voted to determine the queen.

At the ceremonies the candidates and their escorts appeared on the field. Tonya Miller, last year's queen, crowned Kay McKee 1965 Football Queen.

Mr. Ernest Worthing, Steve Lewis, questions Miss Prism, Tina Lung, about the mystery of the baby in the handbag.

Mr. Shelton as director of the play instructs the cast on an important item at dress rehearsal.

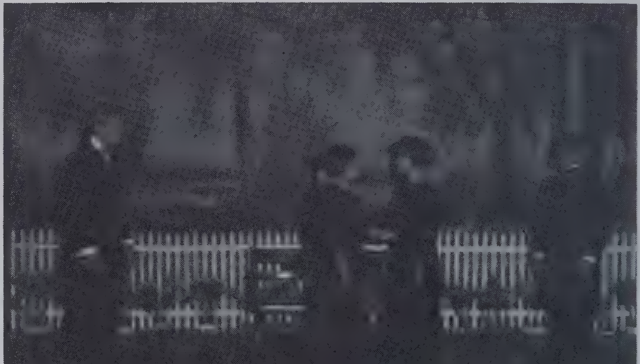
Class Play Set in Victorian Society

"The Importance of Being Ernest" by Oscar Wilde was chosen as the Senior Play for this year. It had a cast of nine people and was directed by Mr. Shelton.

The play is a satire of Victorian society. The plot of the play is an idealistic situation involving the confusion of the name Ernest and to whom it belonged.

The play was presented twice and was well accepted.

Lynn Neukom applies make-up to Kay McKee, Lady Bracknell, before the first performance of the play.



Cindy Lewis; Cecily, and Cathy Barcus; Gwendolyn, console each other after finding out the truth about "Ernest".

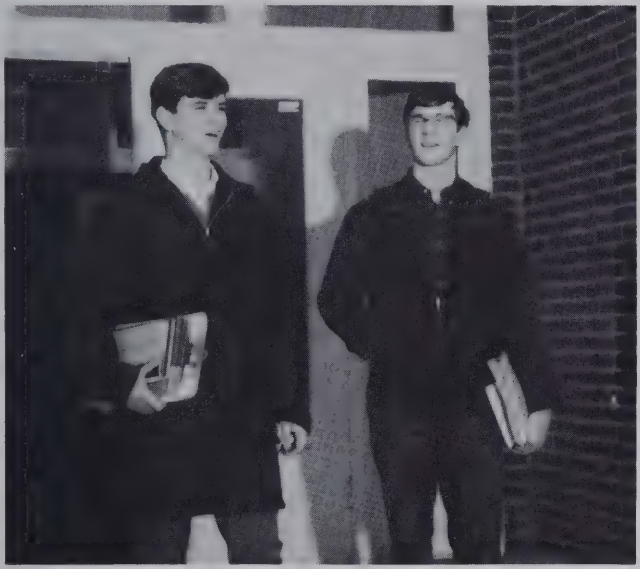
Convocations, Clothes Concern Us

As the weather got colder, students also became more style-conscious. This year benchwarmers were popular with both boys and girls. In style with the girls were textured hose and the "total" look. The most popular fashion colors with many GHS'ers this year were maroon and blue.

Each year the Student Council presents a Thanksgiving program. The true meaning of Thanksgiving is presented with songs, speeches, and skits.

Football season ended and basketball began. We eagerly anticipated a successful season.

Ellen Hazeltine, Kathy Shreve, and Nancy Capin were fashion-conscious, as textured hose, shoulder bags, and benchwarmers were in style with the girls.



Mike Jacobs and Kevin Blair kept warm in benchwarmers, which were very popular among the boys this year.

Nancy McKee explains the meaning of Thanksgiving in a speech at the special convocation, sponsored by the Student Council.

Theresa Wheeler gives her study period to work in the office. Taking attendence is one of the duties these girls perform.

Tina Lung poses happily on her throne after she was crowned 1966 Homecoming Queen at the Snider game.

The members of the Homecoming Court were Brenda Wendell, Karen Myers, and Betsy Sapp.

Tina Lung Elected Basketball Queen

Reigning this year as basketball queen was Tina Lung. Regal and stately was her appearance on the night of her crowning. Her court of three were acintillating in their formal gowns.

This gala evening was the culmination of a campaign to select one of four senior girls to succeed last year's queen. These girls were chosen by members of the varsity basketball team to be candidates for this special honor. The student body, through a popular election, made a final selection.

It was during the half-time of the Snider-Garrett game that the new queen was announced. To compliment the grandeur of the evening, the band played majestic music as the queen and her court were escorted onto the floor. Co-captains Craig Gilliland and Steve Smith then presented the dazzling Tina with roses and a royal crown. The ladies took their reserved seats.

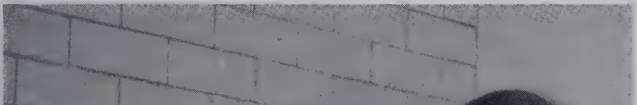
Second Semester Finds Everyone Busy

Jeff Best enjoys his lunch period at Lillie's. Here he pays for a coke and cake, which will give him much-needed energy.



Juniors Jeanne Helbert, Lynn Freeman, and Dianne Lash contribute to the class funds by selling cokes at a ball game. The funds are used to fiance the annual Junior-Senior Banquet.

After semester break, students seemed to become busier. Co-chairmen for Council Capers began working on the annual event. The Student Council devoted most of its meetings to planning the first "Little 500".

The Science Club sponsored the annual local science fair in February. Many projects were entered by all twelve grades to make the fair a success.

The Junior class chose Cyndy Brechbill and Steve Boice as general co-chairmen of the banquet. With a theme chosen and committees formed, the class began hours of work on the event.

"My Fair Lady" was chosen for the 3rd annual all-school production. After the casts were chosen, rehearsals were scheduled every evening in Mrs. Buckner's room.

The main event that seemed to occupy everyone's mind was basketball. Ending the regular season undefeated, GHSer's anticipated a long tournament road ahead.

The Thespians and music department presented a community Christmas pageant. Shown here are Thespian members in a Nativity scene.

"Once Upon a Time," Theme of Banquet

On April 30th, the juniors and seniors entered the world of make-believe and fantasy. The theme of the Banquet was "Once Upon A Time". The co-chairmen of the event were Nancy Capin and Tom Stebing.

The entertainment was provided by exotic Polynesian dancers and Dick Seeger's band played dance music.

After the banquet everyone enjoyed the informal all-night party. The remainder of the week-end was spent at the lake.

Polynesian dancers provided exotic entertainment at the Banquet. It was enjoyed and excepted by everyone.

The senior girls help Cindy Lewis pull her sleeping bag from the lake, at a party after the banquet.

Spring Activities Keep Everyone Busy

The end of the year is a busy time at Garrett High School. Class picnics and traditional banquets are scheduled at every opportunity. The Junior-Senior Picnic at Pokagon is the highlight. It is given the last week of school by the seniors as a thank-you for the banquet.

The last week of school is crowded with examinations for the underclassmen. They look forward to the summer vacation, knowing they will return next fall. The seniors are busy with graduation activities. These ceremonies are the end of high school for them and the beginning of new responsibility to the future.

The arrival of the Aeolian is marked by the Aeolian record hop. Everyone autographs the treasure and little dancing is done.

Don Cattell, Wayne Funk, Carolyn Myers, and Mary Kay Yoder discuss the merits of scholastic achievement at the first banquet for junior high honor students last spring.

The Class of 1965 are together for the last time before they step out into life on their own.

IN ACADEMICS

As the 1965-66 school year began, students and teachers were introduced to new faces, projects, and problems.

Plans for the new gymnasium were carefully considered and approved by Mr. Charles Puff, Superintendent, and members of the School Board.

Mr. James Fritch undertook his new duties as Principal while Mr. George Pearson, Assistant Principal, saw that the discipline was properly carried out.

Mr. Arthur Garrigus became the new boys' guidance counselor. Miss LeNore Lewis, girls' guidance counselor, helped solve the day to day problems that arose.

Improves Communication

To improve communication is the primary objective of the English department. Speech, composition, English literature, journalism, and basic grammar are subjects offered.

Business English, an addition to the English department, was offered to high school students this year. This course emphasized the grammar necessary for those interested in office work.

In-class activities such as plays and other dramatic presentations added interest.

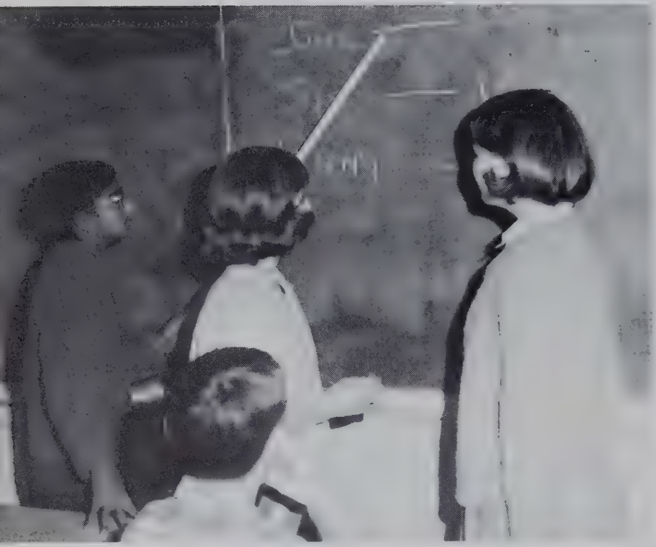
New Modern Math Baffles Students,



Rita Dresser, Sharon Coyer, and Steven Treesh listen as Yogi Carpenter explains a phase of modern math.

This was the year that the math department was revised. Modern math was introduced throughout the school system. Students began to work in bases, use new symbols, and to approach math with a new outlook. The math books had the appearance of literature books instead of their traditional appearance.

Students have a choice of studying math on the academic level geared for the college-bound student or practical math intended for those who do not plan to continue their education beyond high school.

General math, business math, algebra, geometry, and trigonometry are the math subject offered at Garrett.

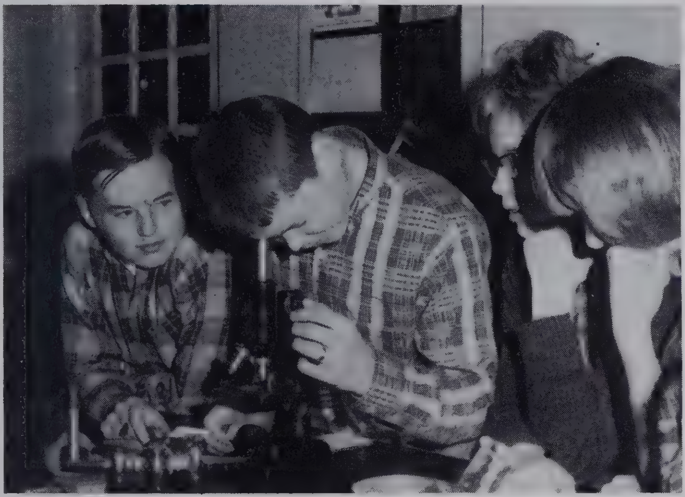
Science Intrigues



David Campbell, Sandy Anderson, and Marilyn Bertsch observe Pat Casey as he views a slide under the microscope.

Carefully preparing for an experiment in senior high science is Marianne Caprino.

As our society becomes more and more complex, the study of science gains in importance. Each year first year biology students gain a new understanding of what life is. The physics students renew the study of basic principles. Young chemists once again are exposed to the elements that compose our environment. Through our scientific studies we are introduced into a fascinating and exciting realm of knowledge.

Past, Present Ideas

Learning to understand ourselves and our fellow man will make us happier and more successful citizens. These are the dual goals of the social studies. In our history, sociology, and psychology classes, we view mankind in many prospectives. We visualize the past, contemplate the present, and attempt to foresee and shape the future.

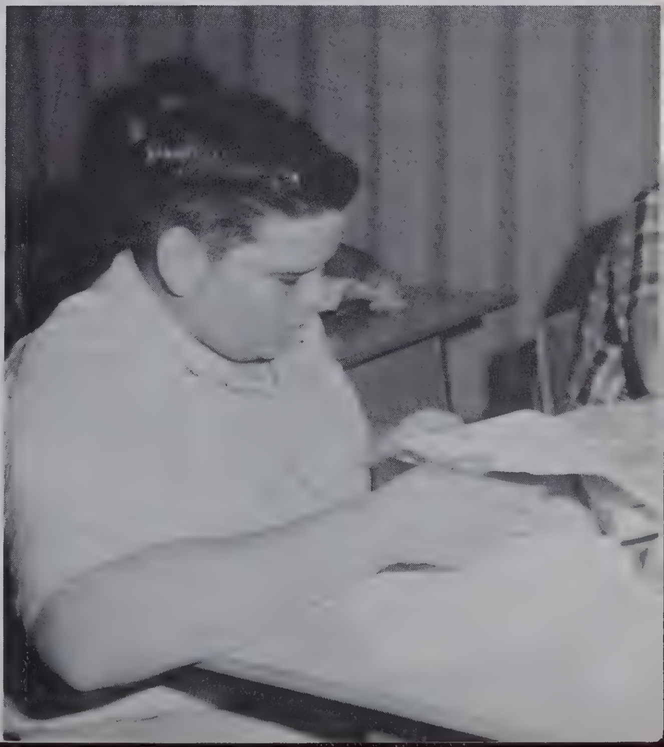
Mike Smurr flies over the keys as he concentrates on his typing assignment.



Numbers, balance sheets, assets, debits, and credits occupy the mind of Bob Holbrook as he works to complete his bookkeeping project.

Language Students Study Culture

Eager Spanish students raise their hands in response to a question.

Being able to speak, understand, read, or write in a foreign language are not the end of the high school language departments. Students of alien tongues also study the customs, geography, and history of foreign lands.

Besides learning Latin, German, and Spanish, students also learn to understand English vocabulary and grammar better.

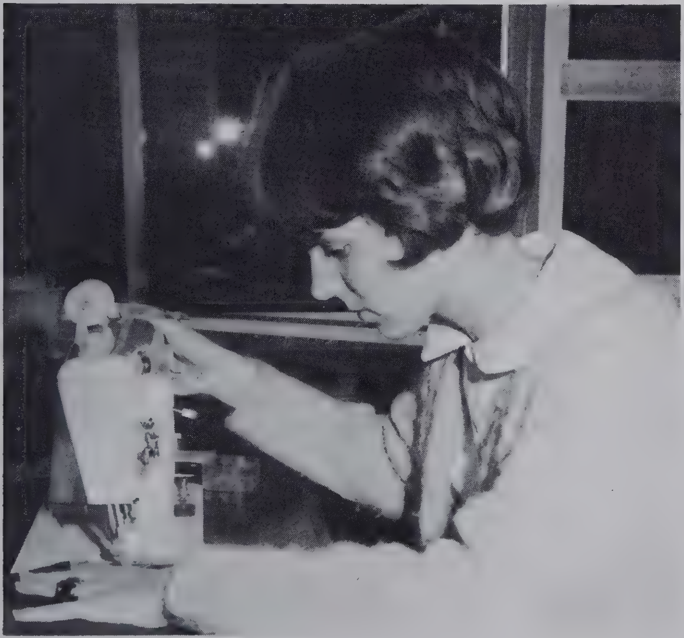
Talents Are Put to Practical Use

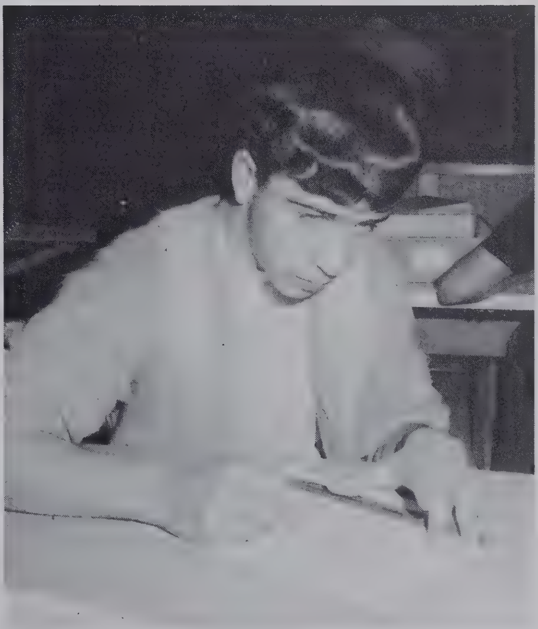
Art classes give students the opportunity to create and express themselves in a meaningful way. Also, students learn to attain a higher regard for other peoples' creativity.

In the home economic classes students learn to make their own clothing and to improve their cooking techniques.

Through art and home economics students learn satisfying and practical skills.



Industrious Nancy Lemish learns skills in home economics that will be of benefit to her all of her life.



Following the example given on the board, Mike Helbert draws in Mr. Hutton's art class.

Physical Fitness Stressed for Youth

Strong bodies make alert minds for these students doing sit ups in Miss Crowe's gym class.

Developing healthy bodies is one of the goals of the physical education department. Providing an atmosphere where students can learn to play together is another. Students participate in a variety of sports; and, of course, do the time-proven calisthenics. With a healthy body and an adjustable personality, students will be able to reach worthy objectives for themselves, the community, and for mankind.

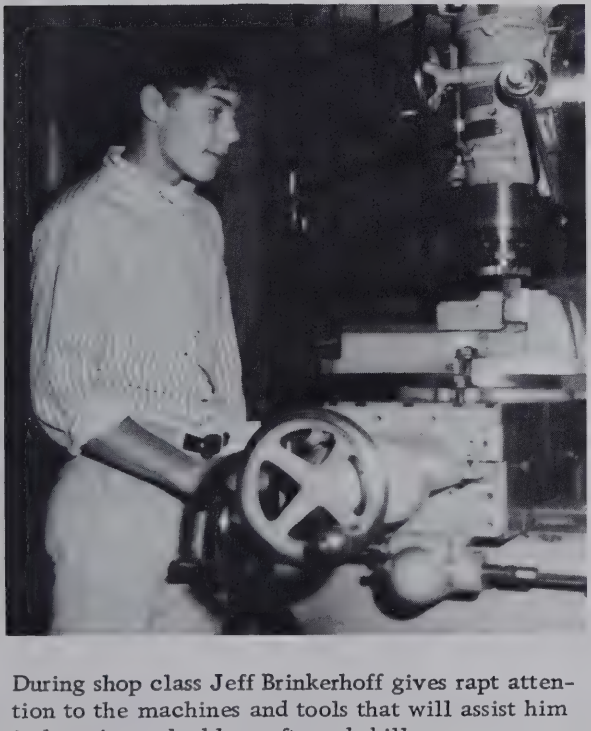
The practical studies of shop, drawing, and agriculture are appealing to many students. Learning how to run machines that will make usable items provides the student with a feeling of self-accomplishment.

After spending hours working on one drawing, one feels proud of his work. Learning new methods and improving old ones while raising and growing plants and animals occupies one's time in a worthwhile manner.

Students Build for Practical Lives



During shop class Jeff Brinkerhoff gives rapt attention to the machines and tools that will assist him in learning valuable crafts and skills.

Senior Steve Mansfield seems to be puzzled as he works to complete a project in mechanical drawing.

Bands Add Color, Spur Enthusiasm,

This year's twirlers were: Bill Baidinger, Drum Major, Marianne Myers, Drum Majorette, Lynn Freeman, Jeanne Helbert, and Claudia Miller.

One of the most important organizations of the school system, the Garrett High School Band, appeared at ball games and pep sessions boosting our team on to victory. The director, Mr. Larry Brandt, led the band in contests and parades bringing honors to the music department of Garrett High School.

A new phase of the band was organized this year as the Dance Band. This group appeared many places, including dances and dinners. Placing first in the District Music Contest and second in the State Music Contest, it served as a useful addition.

Entertainment was provided at both basketball and football games by the Garrett High School twirlers. An added attraction was our first drum major. They added a bit of zest and color at half-time.

Band. FIRST ROW: Shelley Miles, Cindy Carper, Bruce Brown, Harold Smith, Stephen Yingling. SECOND ROW: Joyce Wesner, Margaret Moats, Marilyn Smith, Brenda Shultz, Peggy Young, Nancy Schurr, Dick Peck. Two Groups Provide Entertainment

Under the direction of Miss Stafford, our chorus has been blending their voices in beautiful harmont to entertain the students at several of the assembly programs. The Christmas and spring concerts highlighted their year's activities.

Along with the chorus, Miss Stafford sponsored the Streamliners with the assistance of Mrs. Zitlow. A snappy pom pom routine combined with the new eye-catching costumes brought enjoyment to everyone at two of Garrett's home games.

Study Facilities Benefit Students

The study hall and the library provide places for us to study, but they mean more than just that to us. In study hall we are provided with a breathing spell so that we can complete and review assignments. The library is a popular room. Here we can spend time doing research, browsing, or entering into the factual and fictional lives of others.

The study hour finds these students busy with assignments to complete.

Mrs. Robert Talley and Mrs. Norman Funk
Study Hall Supervisors

Providing out-of-town students with transportation to school is an invaluable service of the bus drivers.

Mr. Blomeke and Mr. Heitz spend many hours working after everyone has left school.

Workers Assist Us Behind Scenes

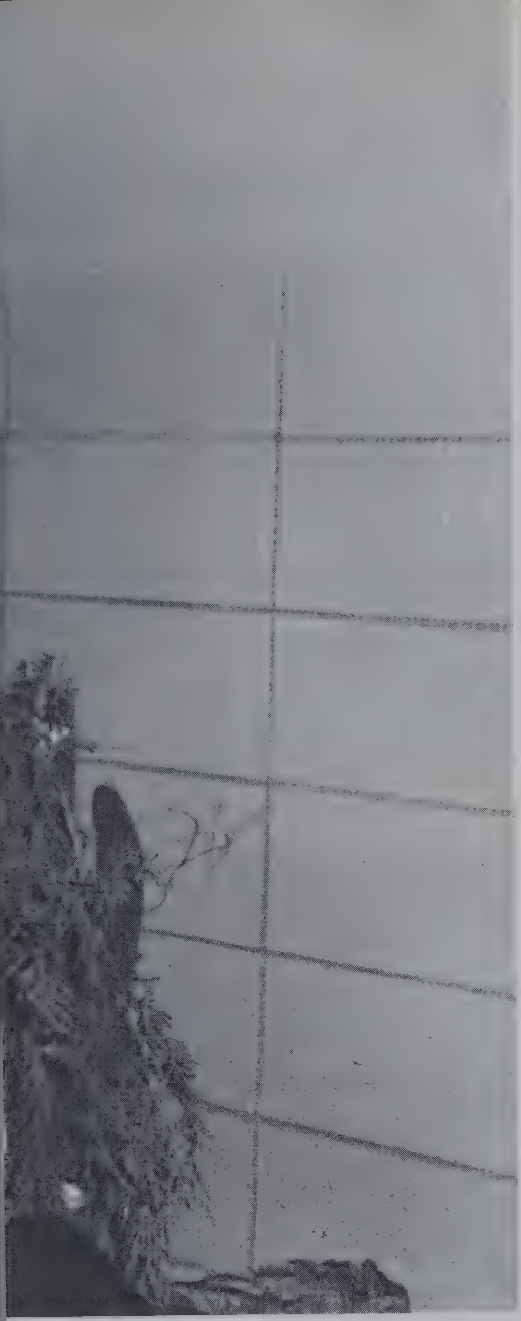
Mr. Getts, Mr. Wilmot, and Mr. Robke spend many hours keeping the school spotless.

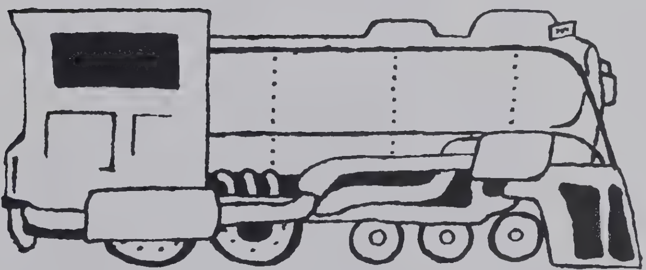
The cooks spend many hours providing delicious meals for students and faculty of Garrett High School.

Mrs. Carper, Mrs. Ludban, and Mrs. Sartor are known by all the students and perform an invaluable service.

AS TIME GOES BY

IN ORGANIZATIONS





Gabby Lilienthal, Sec.; Mark Hamm, Vice-Pres.; Tom Stebing, Pres.; and Susie Redmond, Treas. look over Council notes in preparation for the upcoming meeting.

Under the direction of Miss Lewis and Mr. Stackhouse, the work of the twenty-seven council members could be seen throughout the school. The annual magazine drive, held at the beginning of the school year, was one of the successful projects of the council. Other projects included the convocations, the John F. Kennedy Scholarship, and Council Capers which were for the benefit of the student body. Every year, council members take part in the state convention, where they meet and confer with other council members, expressing their ideas for a better council and acquiring new ideas for their council. Also, the officers of the council are sent to a week long workshop to learn new ways to achieve their council goal.

Seventh and eighth grade Council members Mike Barcus, Kenny Roberts, Barbara Moran, Mike Anderson, Mary Kay Yoder, Leslie Wise, Karen Haynes, and Debbie Andrews gather around the flag. Absent were Brad Kinsey and Dan Barnhart.

Busy Student

Juniors and seniors Craig Thorne, Sharon Roberts, Carol Brennen, Anita Johnson, Steve Mulligan, and Tom Potts relax on the patio after a late Council meeting.

Standing proudly in front of the new bulletin board are freshmen and sophomore Student Council members Marcia Lung, Bruce Brown, Janie Wheeler, Linda DePew, Chris Creager, Peggy Young, Dave Gilliland, and Kathy Friend.

National Honor Society sponsored by Mrs. Love and honorary Mr. Puff did many things this year. One of the newest ventures was helping Angola N.H.S. install its new members. Again this year members served as ushers at the National Education Week program. In the spring the new members of the club were installed.

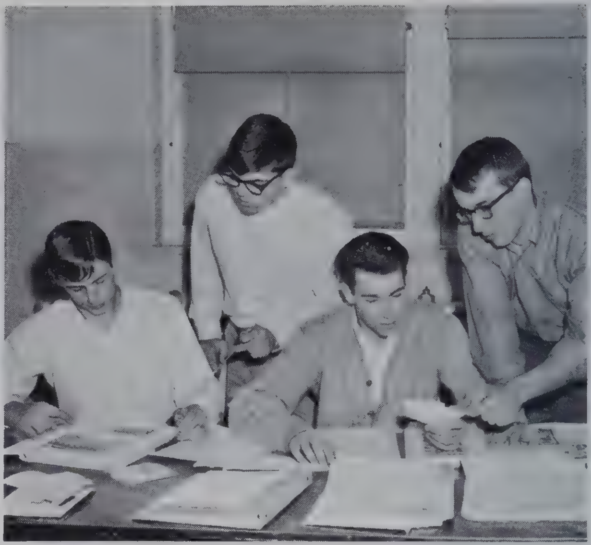
The future president will have the opportunity of attending the Leadership Conference at I.U. this summer. The purpose and requirements of the club display leadership, scholarship, service and character. Seniors must obtain a 3.0 average in order to become a member, juniors a 3.2 average and sophomores a 3.5 average.

Craig Gilliland, Pres.; Dave Miller, Vice-Pres.; Carol Roebel, Sec.; and Bob Carpenter, Treas. look over minutes of the last Honor Society meeting.

Council Leads, NHS Honors Scholars

Members of the NHS were: FIRST ROW; Susie Redmond, Leslie Rhetts, Cindy Lewis, Jeanne Detrick, Cathy Barcus, Nancy Capin, Mary Lee Carper, Peggy Ley, Sandy Crodes, Tina Wysong, and Diane Capin. SECOND ROW: Mitch Simpson, Alice Kelham, Debbie Buckles, Margaret Moats, Karen Myers, Cindy Brechbill, Carol Brennen, Karen Ellert, and Anita Haynes. THIRD ROW: Janney Lung, Steve Mulligan, Arthur Cobbs, Dave Clark, Steve Smith, Tom Stebing, Kirk Aplin, Doug Opdycke, and Randy Tustison.

Fern Dame and Alice Kelham, faculty ed. and Tina Lung and Kay McKee, organization editors type copy.



Tom Potts and Dave Noel, sports ed., and Bill Yoder and Steve Mulligan, senior editors check pictures and layouts.

Dianne Johnson, Brenda Smith, and Chris Kolbe look over lists of subscribers for the Aeolian.

The AEOLIAN staff encountered new and different ideas. Color in the in-sheets was introduced for the first time. Having four different deadlines during the year, the staff kept working frantically to meet each one.

Understudies were again chosen to help the staff and to acquaint them with the duties they will face the coming year.

Maxine Gravit, editor-in-chief, and Mr. Gordon Harter, advisor, check the progress of the yearbook as the prepare to meet a deadline.

Publications Keep

Wanda Hatton and Peggy Ley, underclass ed., and Gary Armstrong and Sandy Byanski, photographers edit copy and check pictures.

Susie Redmond, and Tom Barry, photographers, and Cindy Lewis and Craig Gilliland, sports editors are busy with their tasks.

Kathy Campbell, editor-in-chief, and Mr. Jay Newell, advisor, admire the latest issue of the Maroon and Blue.

The MAROON AND BLUE STREAMLINER for the first time enabled students to purchase greetings for the Christmas and Valentine issues. Congratulatory wishes were bought by the students for the team for their successful season.

Two of the larger issues were the Christmas issue which was printed in colored ink and the April Fools' issue.

Staffs Very Busy

Made responsible for two pages of each issue were Tina Wysong, Becky Harter, Steve McGrath, Rhonda Ballentine, and Diane Lash.

Bev Hall, Exchange Ed.; Cindy Brechbill, Editorial Ed.; Karen Ellert, Bus. Mgr.; and Carol Brennan, Copy Ed., all aided in giving valuable assistance to the paper.

Circulating managers of the staff for the year were Carole DeLong, Carol Roebel, Ed Talley, Claudia Miller, and Jeff Hipskind.

Presiding over Y-Teens are Gertrude Hall, Ser. Ch.; Chris Kolbe, Sec.; Nancy Capin, Pres.; Lauise Gordon, Treas.; Sharon Weller, Vice-Pres.; and Claudia Miller, Wel. Ch.

Shown here are only a few of the many decorative costumes worn at the Halloween Record Hop.

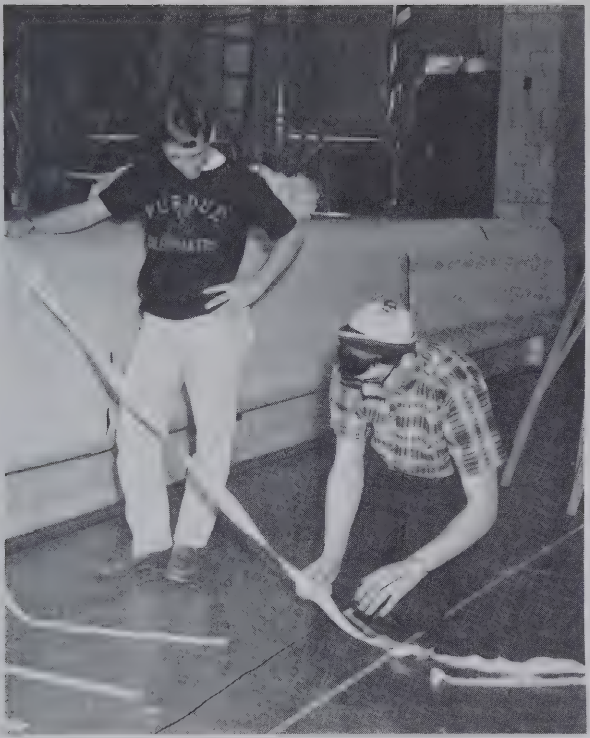
A Halloween record hop, an Old-Time Bazaar, potluck, and the Semi-Formal were the main activities of the Y-Teens. A trip to the convalescent home was one of their service projects.

Through these activities, junior and senior girls, under the leadership of Mrs. Mellott and Mrs. Lewis, can try to fulfill the purpose of their club. That is to grow in friendship of all people and to grow as a person.

Hi-Y, Y-Teens

Karen Ellert and Wanda Hatton keep themselves busy while working at one of the many concession stands at the Y-Teen Bazaar.

Vicki Quinn and Doug Opdycke were crowned queen and king of the annual Semi-Formal.



Randy Tustison and Ed Myers add the finishing touches to the decoration for the annual Semi-Formal.

Serving as officers of Hi-Y are Craig Gilliland, Pres.; Jim Grawcock, Sgt.-at-Arms; Rick Lewis, Vice-Pres.; Janny Lung, Sec.; Tim Moody, Treas.; and Ed Talley, Chap.

Have Busy Year

To create, extend, and maintain throughout the community, home and school high standards of Christian living is the purpose of Hi-Y. Under the leadership of Mr. Ewing and Mr. Steward, junior and senior boys hold discussions, once a month socials, have speakers, service projects, and help sponsor the annual Semi-Formal.

George Davis and Carole DeLong gaze upon one of the many decorations at the Semi-Formal Adding more enjoyment for everyone at the Semi-Formal were the "The Chosen Ones" from Fort Wayne.

Clubs Provide

Dianne Capin crowns Bob Lung Mr. Football at the Blue Triangle Record Hop held in his honor.

Connie Anderson, Program Ch.; Dianne Capin, Vice-Pres.; Connie Tuttle, Treas.; Chris Brinkerhoff, Pres.; and Margaret Moats, Sec. lead Blue Triangle.

The Blue Triangle consisting of freshman and sophomore girls came up with a unique idea this year. They sponsored a "Mr. Football" contest.

The semi-formal, mother-daughter tea, freshman initiation, and many service projects were a few of the events that made this an active year for the club, under the guidance of Miss Eldridge and Mrs. Hall.

Fran Cleland, Karen Finn, a speaker from Brazil, Paula Bartles, and Susie Likens look over artifacts after a Blue Triangle meeting.

THANKS FOR BOOKS

Paula Bartels, Carol Schiffli, Susie Likens, and Linda Lepley help to sort out the new shipment of Christmas cards for the Blue Triangle project.

Service, Fun

Proud of their new membership cards are Joe Michael and Wayne Roberts.

Denny Davis and Don Cattel were members of the Program Committee which planned activities for the club.

Jr. Hi-Y under the leadership of Mr. Mahnesmith and Mr. Ketch is a service club for the freshman and sophomore boys. The purpose of the club is to create a better understanding and to promote leadership among the members.

Leading Jr. Hi-Y activities are Lynn Grogg, Chaplain; Steve Lampe, Sgt. at Arms, Don Clark, Pres.; Mike Berg, Vice-Pres.; and Pat Boice, Sec. Sandy Rosenberg Treas. was absent.

Mike Berg, Pat Boice, and Tom Pence helped to write a new constitution for Jr.-Hi-Y.

Douglas Opedycke, Pres.; Carol Brennan, Sec.; Ed Talley, Parliamentarian; Janie Wheeler, Treas.; and Bob Carpenter. Vice-Pres. take a break after the Latin Club meeting.

Highlighting the activities of the Latin Club was the annual Roman Banquet held in the spring. Other activities included Christmas caroling, a Round-up picnic, and monthly meetings which included guest speakers and Roman dress-ups.

In order to promote a more thorough knowledge of Roman life, history, and literature, to impart a better understanding of the practical and cultural value of the classics, and to interest other students in the classical languages, delegates along with Mrs. Love attend state and national conventions. Last year the Garrett chapter had the largest delegation at the national convention held in Los Angeles.

Customs, Culture, Languages

Sandy Trainer, Linda Conkle, Carrie Hippensteel, Mrs. Love, Margaret Moats, Henry Zecca, Debbie Hall, Barry Reese, Alice Ort, Joe Cromely, Diane Platner, Steve McGrath, Theresa Wheeler, Kirk Aplin, Leslie Rhetts, Mike Berg, Sandy Cordes, Kris Brinkerhoff, Janie Wheeler, Ethel Finn, and Nancy Tullis were all members of the Club's trip to California last summer.

Elected as officers of Spanish Club were Cyndy Brechbill, Sec.; Gary Surfus, Pres.; Ron Cutler, Treas.; and Debbie Buckles, Sgt.-at-Arms. Jeff Hipskind was absent.

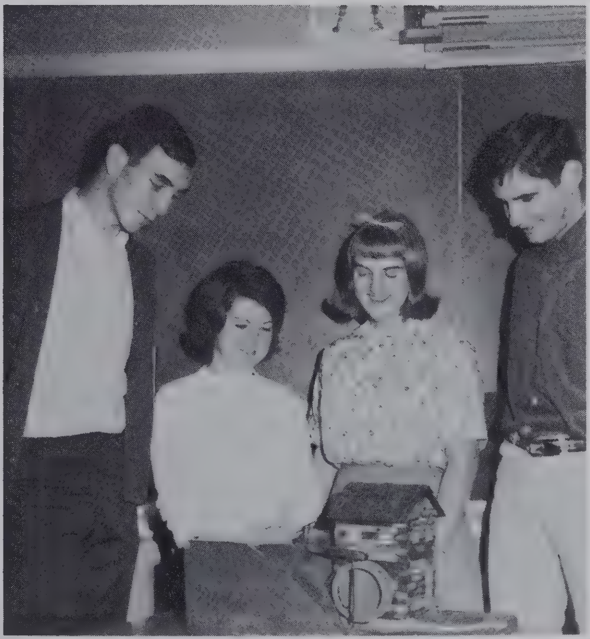
Once again the Spanish Club is sponsored by Mr. Stackhouse. The purpose of the club is to aquaint the Spanish students with Spanish customs and way of life. A member must be a student of first or second year Spanish and be willing to cooperate with other members. During the evening club meetings members visited college Spanish Clubs.

Marianne Myers, Melanie Smith, Jim Wiley, Amy Leeson, and Craig Thorne, look over the collection of Spanish records.

Intrigue Linguists, Historians

Newly introduced is the Social Studies Club under the sponsorship of Mr. Parks. The purpose of this new and exciting club is to promote interest in social studies throughout the community. The main activities of the club include various field trips to the battle fields and museums.

Leading the Social Studies Club are George Davis, Treas.; Randy Tustison, Pres.; Carol Brennan, Sec.; and Tom Barry, Vice-Pres.



Dave Miller, Susie Redmond, Anita Haynes, and Steve Smith praise one of the many Social Studies projects.

Guiding Thespians were Dave Clark, Vice-Pres.; Cindy Brechbill, Clerk; Mitch Simpson, Pres.; Cindy Frey, Treas.; and Margo Januseski, Sec.

Handling the business of Speech Club were Jerilyn Kock, Prog. Ch.; Mike Lewis, Vice-Pres.; Tom Carpenter, Treas.; Mike Heitz, Sgt.-at-Arms; Debbie Myers, Pres.; and Mari Lynn Neukom, Sec.

Oral Skills,

The spring all-school-play is produced by the Thespians under the leadership of Mr. Shelton. The purpose of the club is to create an active and intelligent interest in dramatic arts.

Mr. Shelton is also the sponsor of Speech Club, another club whose purpose is to develop an interest in the arts of English. Both clubs present one act plays at their meetings and for school functions.

King of Siam, Tom Stebing, shows his anger at the children in a scene from the all-school production of the King and I.

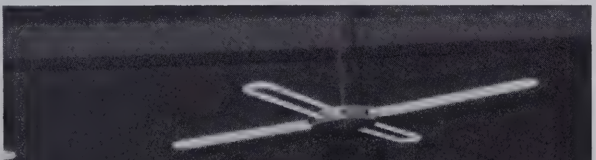
Business officers were Bev Hall, Prog. Ch.; Cindy Carper, Treas.; Paula Dembickie, Vice-Pres.; Peggy Ley, Pres.; and Bill Yoder, Reporter. Kathy Beber, Sec. was absent.

Steve Mansfield shows Shelly Miles, Betty Kalhke, and Vicki Quinn how to work the calculating machine.

Systems Learned

To increase pupils interest in library work and to develop a knowledge of the library are the purposes of the club sponsored by Mrs. Sweeney. The clubs activities included a guest speaker, field trip to Indiana University, and delegates for the summer workshop for students librarians.

The business club consisted of thirty-six members led by Mr. Newell. Purposes of the club are to create interest in the occupations of business. The club made a field trip to Ball State University and helped a needy family in addition to sponsoring club record hops.



Lynn Freeman, Joan Thompson, and Kay Shoener work on making articles for the Christmas season.

In charge of library club throughout the year were Jeanne Detrick, Pres.; Guyan Ramey, Vice-Pres.; and Cindy Frey, Sec.

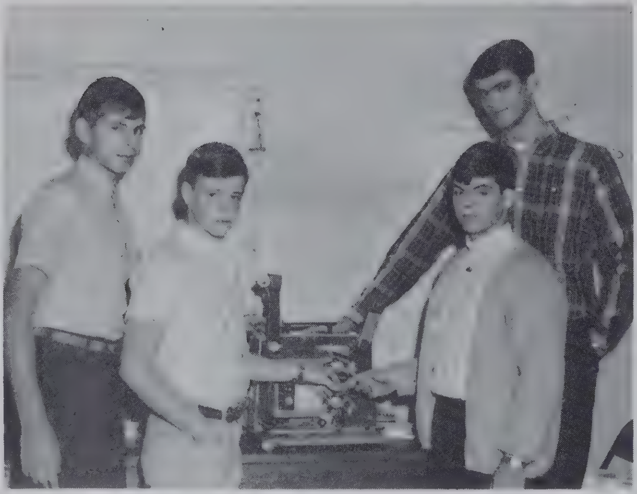
Scientists, Operators Serve Community

Leslie Rhetts, Kirk Aplin, and Mike Jacobs check on the progress of their aquarium for the science fair.

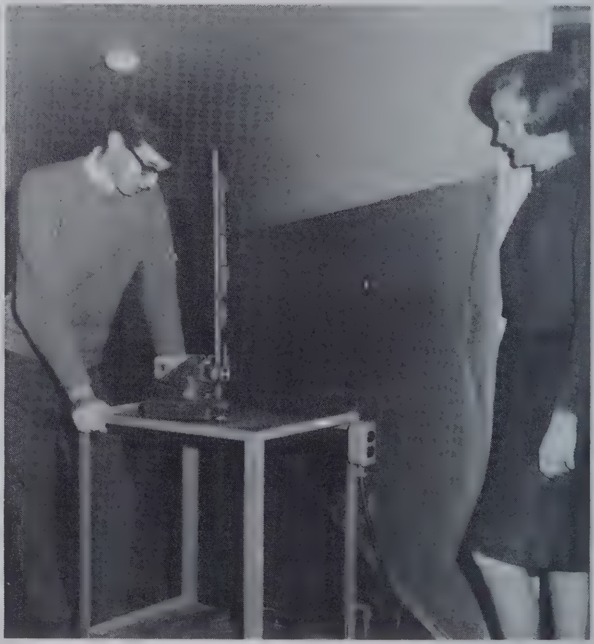
A very important club at G.H.S. is the Science Club under the sponsorship of Mr. Bame and Mr. Miller. The main purpose of this club is to promote science in the school as well as the community. Many field trips and service projects were engaged in by the club's twenty members.

Science Club leaders are Mitch Spimson, Treas.; Craig Thorne, Vice-Pres.; Rick Ewert, Sec.; Kevan Blair, Pres.; and Debbie Hall, Corres. Sec.

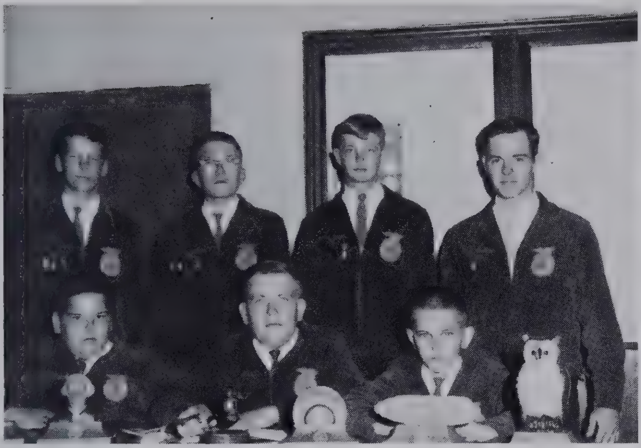
A willingness to devote time and effort is the main requirement for the Operators Club. They serve the school and community under the leadership of Mr. Bateman and Mr. Harmon by setting up P. A. systems for basketball and football games, running films and score boards, and by helping in the lighting and sound of plays and productions.



Phil Heitz, Sec.; George Davis, Treas.; Dave Noel, Vice-Pres.; and Chuck Bavis, Pres., lead activities of Operators Club.



Ed Talley delivers one of the many movie projectors to teacher Mrs. Zitlow.



Carrying on activities of FFA were Clark Bergdall, Reporter; Wayne Weller, Vice-Pres.; Larry Dove, Sentinal; Tom Shaffer, Adv.; Bob Holbrook, Treas.; Jerry Weller, Pres.; and Paul Smith, Sec.

The International Livestock Exposition was one of the many places visited by the FFA this year. Sponsored by Mr. Bateman, the purpose of the club is to encourage and practice thrift, improvement in scholarships, and to develop competent, agressive, rural, and agricultural leadership.

Ron Sechler relaxes between FFA activities at the fair.

Knowledge Acquired Put to Valuable Use

The purpose of the Future Homemakers of America sponsored by Mrs. Ish is to promote a growing appreciation of the joys of homemaking. Members of the club must have had at least one year of homemaking. The weekly project of the club was a bakesale held every Thursday.

Leading FHA are Carol Hageman, Pres.; Betty Kalhke, Vice-Pres.; Ann Kleeman, Treas.; Vonda Bixler, Sec.; Nancy Lemish, Prog. Ch.; Marilyn Smith, Reporter, and Linda Shafer, Historian.

Mary Anne Maurer and Charlotte Warstler sell FHA "GOODIES" to Chris Creager and Marsha Lung.

Barbara Spicer eludes opponents as she drives for a basket. Such games as basketball and volleyball provided recreation for members of GAA.

Contriving new and interesting acitivites for the GAA were club officers Debbie Buckles, Vice-Pres.; Trudi Hall, Pres.; Vonda Bixler, Sec.; and Sharon Weller, Treas.

Students Put Vigor to Good Use

At the Auburn-Garrett game members of the Boy's Pep Club show the enthusiasm that helped to make the season a successful one.

The Boys Pep Club, sponsored by Mr. Newell creates spirit among the boys of the high school and backs the team. Activities of the club are creating new yells and backing the basketball team.

Through basketball and volleyball games the members of the Girls Athletic Association are able to take part in recreational sports. A banquet is held at the end of the year to honor the officers and the outstanding players. The club is sponsored by Miss Lewis.

Presiding over boys Pep Club are Phil Heitz, Sgt. at Arms; Jim Dietrick, Mascot; Gary Kleeman, Pres.; Pat Hunter, Treas.; and Tom Parvu, Sgt. at Arms. Janney Lung and Ed Talley were absent.

Girls' Pep Club Promotes Team Spirit

New Pep Club outfits consisting of maroon jumpers and white blouses added highlights to the Pep Squad this year. White gloves were worn to complete the outfit. A new spiral was learned and performed at the half time of the tourney. Club members portrayed the players in skits performed at the pep sessions held before each football and basketball game. Before each football game the Railroaders were greeted by a victory line.

Meetings were held every first and third Friday during activity period and also on Thursday nights before a home game.

Through the guidance of Miss Fredina Crowe the cheerleaders taught the squad many new and spirited yells. The Pep Club again took charge of the Football and Basketball Homecoming.

Leading the Pep Squad through the year were Kay McKee, Pres.; Paula Dembickie, Vice-Pres.; Peggy Ley, Treas.; and Kris Brinkerhoff, Sec.

CONGRATULATIONS ON A GREAT SEASON G-MEN!

The "Mighty Railroaders" acquired the conference crown under the work of coaches Capin and Hutton. With added ingredients of desire, talent, skill, and school spirit, this team set a new NEIC defensive record. Opponents did not venture across the G-men's goal line until the final game. Phrases such as "The best offense is a good defense" proved very true during this year.

Single players can not be credited for the team's success. Each player doing his own duty at the proper time led to this successful season.

Extensive depth in the local squad proved too much for their foes, as Garrett rolled over Kendallville and Decatur by the scores of 62-0 and 34-0 respectively. The G-men's only defeat came at the hands of the strong Hicksville, Ohio team, who were undefeated during the entire season.

Dave Miller attempts to elude an Auburn defender after a fine reception.

The Garrett Railroaders were the most successful team in the state this year. By winning twenty consecutive victories during the regular basketball season, they were the only undefeated team in Indiana when the basketball season closed.

On their way to this unprecedented position, the mighty G-men won the Holiday Tournament and the North Eastern Indiana Conference championship. They climbed the state rating charts to be ranked the number five team in Indiana by the United Press and the number three team by the Associated Press.

During the season Coach Smith's quintet burned the nets by hitting fifty per cent most games and above fifty per cent in others. Throughout the campaign they held the opposition to a scant minority of baskets. Garrett averaged 77.5 points each game, while their opponents averaged only 48.5 points against the Railroaders' might.

Despite these facts, some teams gave the boys a rough time, for example, the tough and talented undefeated Columbia City Eagles lost to the Railroaders in a game that was a real thriller. At the Fort Wayne Coliseum, the Garrett team proved itself invincible to a fiery Ossian club. Later in the season, "hard hitting" Churubusco was edged out for a nineteenth victory. Garrett closed the season undefeated when they won over Hamilton High School. (WE'RE PROUD OF OUR TEAM!)

Craig Gilliland waltzes through the air for another two points while Ed Myers looks on.

Great Team

Positioning themselves for a possible rebound are Jim Vogel and Ed Myers as Rick Lewis shoots.

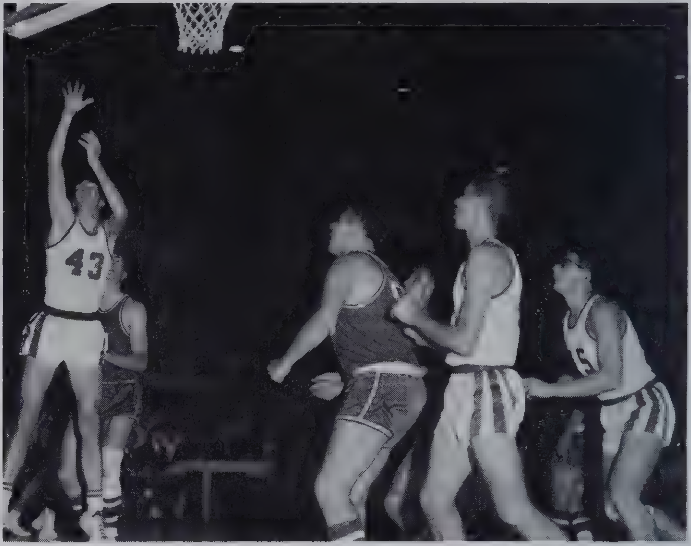
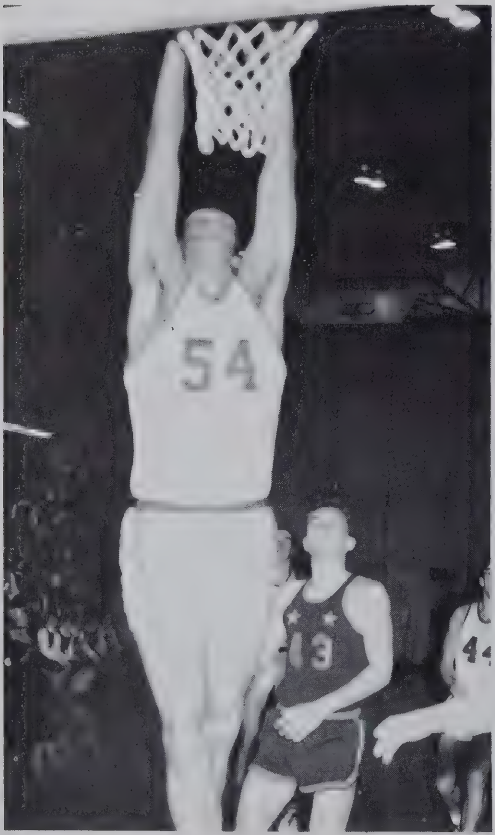
Experience, Energy, Enthusiasm

A referee looks on as if to keep Rick Lewis honest during the Garrett-Ossian game at the Coliseum.



Dave Miller grabs one of many rebounds during the Garrett-Auburn game as Craig Gilliland and Ed Myers come to help.

Garrett High School was blessed with one of the greatest players to ever come out of the state of Indiana, Chuck Bavis. In his sophomore and junior years he made the All-sectional and Regional Honor Teams. During his junior and senior years he made the NEIC first team. In his senior year he was listed among the nation's top one-hundred players, broke the school and county scoring record, and was on the All-American Third Team.



"Chas" Bavis appears to dwarf an Angola player.

Craig Gilliland eludes the opposition for an easy score.

Builds Team

Three capable senior girls--Cathy Barcus, Nancy Capin, and Cindy Lewis--lead Garrett fans in cheers throughout a year filled with spectacular athletic achievements.

Our varsity cheerleaders sporting new outfits that, for the first time, were Garrett's school colors added spirit and color to the athletic contests.

All of these girls attended a cheerleaders' clinic during the summer. As a result new cheers and routines sparked both athletes and rooters.

Cindy Lewis, Nancy Capin, and Cathy Barcus channeled our enthusiasm and lead Garrett fans as they cheered the Railroads on to successive victories.

Displaying skillful outside shooting is Steve Smith.

Chuck Bavis, alert and poised, is prepared to assist Buzz Steward if he should miss.

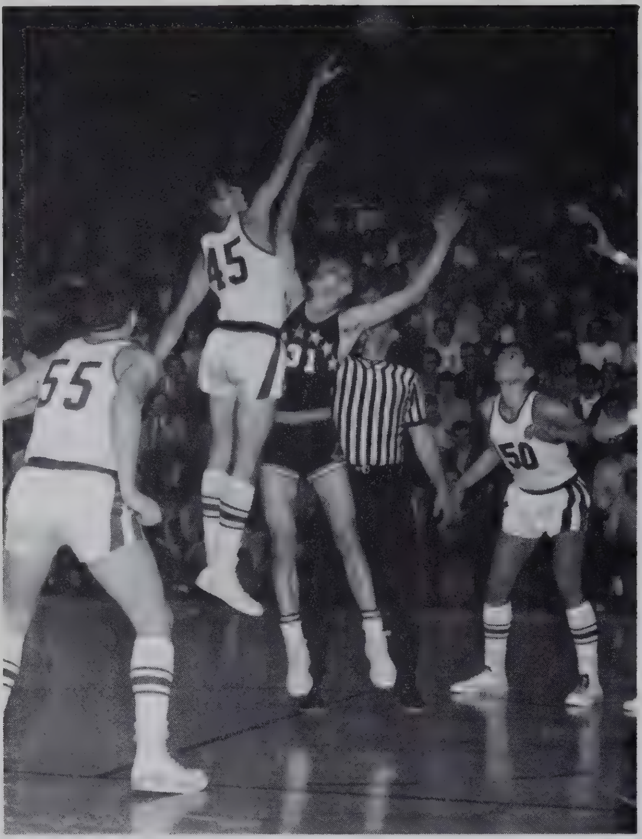
Victories, Reserves Build for Future

The adage "Like father, like son" held true for Garrett's two basketball teams this year. The reserves followed the varsity's footsteps with an undefeated regular season. Only the Kokomo tournament kept the Handcars from having an unmarred record.

The reserves had a new coach this year, Ron Hughes. His boys had only two close games. These were the Kendallville and Fremont contests. Indeed, our reserve team's record gave promise of great expectations.

Cheering the Handcars on to victory were Janie Wheeler, Tina Wysong, and Diane Capin.

High-jumping Scott Bishop eludes opponents to score for the Handcars.



Ready to assist if Craig Gilliland should miss are Ed Myers and Steve Smith.

The Railroaders won the Kendallville Sectional hands down by winning just three games. In their first game they smothered Cromwell and then went on to defeat Albion.

In the final game the Railroaders faced a small, but talented Wolf Lake team with a record of twenty wins and only one loss. The G-men upended them to take their third sectional title in a row.

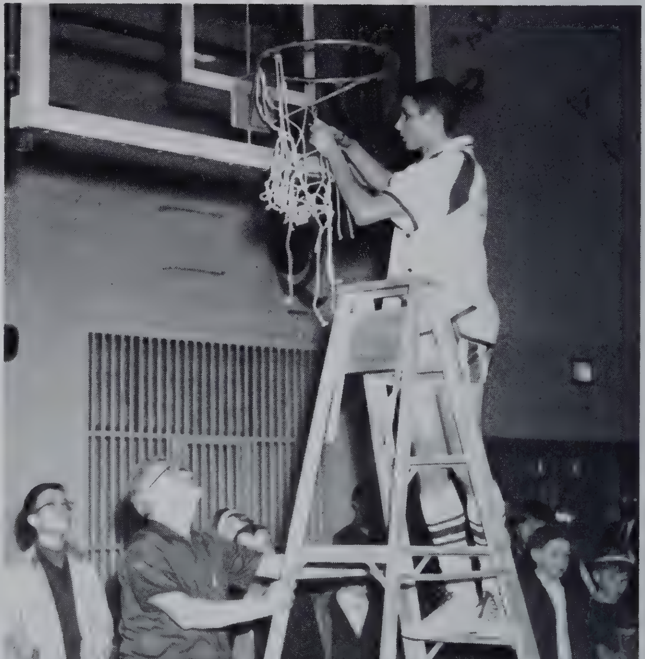
Railroaders Sweep into Regionals

Ed Myers' determination was typical of Garrett's spirit.



Craig cuts the nets. "To the victor belongs the spoils."

Regionals Bring Excitement, Frustration

Early in the day Steve Koehl prepares to begin the basketball dribble to Fort Wayne. An enthusiastic Gary Kleeman arrives at the Coliseum. Merritt Scheurich backs his team all the way, while Bill Novy seems at a loss during the evening game.

The mighty Garrett Railroaders fell in defeat to South Side in the Fort Wayne Regional finals. In the first game of the afternoon, South Side crushed Eastside, while the Railroaders pulled out a one point victory over the North Side Redskins after having lead by twelve points at the halftime. Then, in the final game, the South Side Archers upset the G-men by playing a control and semi-stall ball game. After this first loss of the year, the Railroaders came up with a 24-1 season which is an "A" in anyone's book!

Successful Seasons

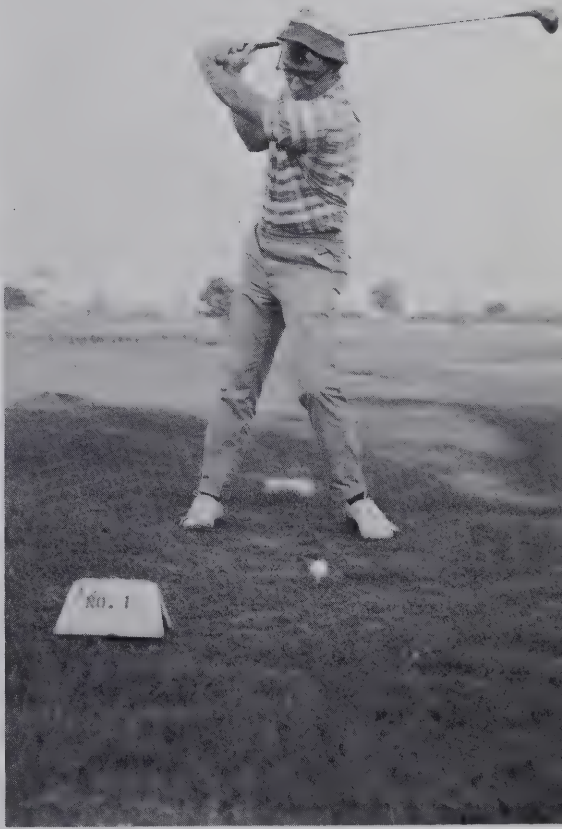
Two spring sports, track and golf, completed successful seasons.

Garrett had the largest track team in many seasons. The team won five meets and lost three. Great potential was shown as many individuals excelled their certain events. Dave Miller set a decade record in the high jump and the mile relay team set a decade record, also.

The 1964-65 golf team rounded up another season by winning the North Eastern Indiana Conference trophy and by finishing third out of thirty teams in the sectional.

At the beginning of the golf season, Garrett and her traditional rival, Auburn, vied for leadership in the conference. During the first nine holes of the eighteen hole tournament, it looked as though Auburn would easily win the trophy, but Garrett came back to win the meet on the last nine holes.

This was the first time since 1956 that Garrett had won the conference.



Steve Mulligan exhibits the form that made him low medalist of the golf team.

New Sports Increase Student

Two new sports, cross country and baseball, were added to broaden student participation in athletics and to give balance to the high school athletic program.

Garrett's first cross country team greatly exceeded expectations. They won their first five meets.

The baseball team, consisting chiefly of sophomores and juniors, gave promise of a more successful season their second year.

Varied Interests, Talents, Skills

In order for a student to achieve honor status at Garrett High School, he must maintain a grade average of 3.125 during seven semesters of high school academic work. Twenty-two seniors met this scholastic requirement.

To be classified as an honor student is the result of persistence throughout the high school years. This honor cannot be gained unless a student has been continuously diligent.

Honor students at Garrett High School have been noted for the variety of interests they have and the activities in which they have made useful contributions. Their academic studies have lead them to anticipate a fuller and richer life.

Seventh grade football players prove to be energetic.

Ninth grade basketball players show great ability and seem to be good prospects for next year.

Prepares Young Athletes

Eighth grade develops a good team.

Experience and strength in sports prove to be very beneficial to the seventh, eighth, and ninth grade players in their approaching years at G.H.S. All teams seem to be progressing rapidly and someday may be varsity team members. The team members have shown great ability in their games this year.

Seventh grade anticipates the future.

Seventh and Eighth grade students have time to greet each other, laugh, talk, and get their books before scurrying off to morning classes.

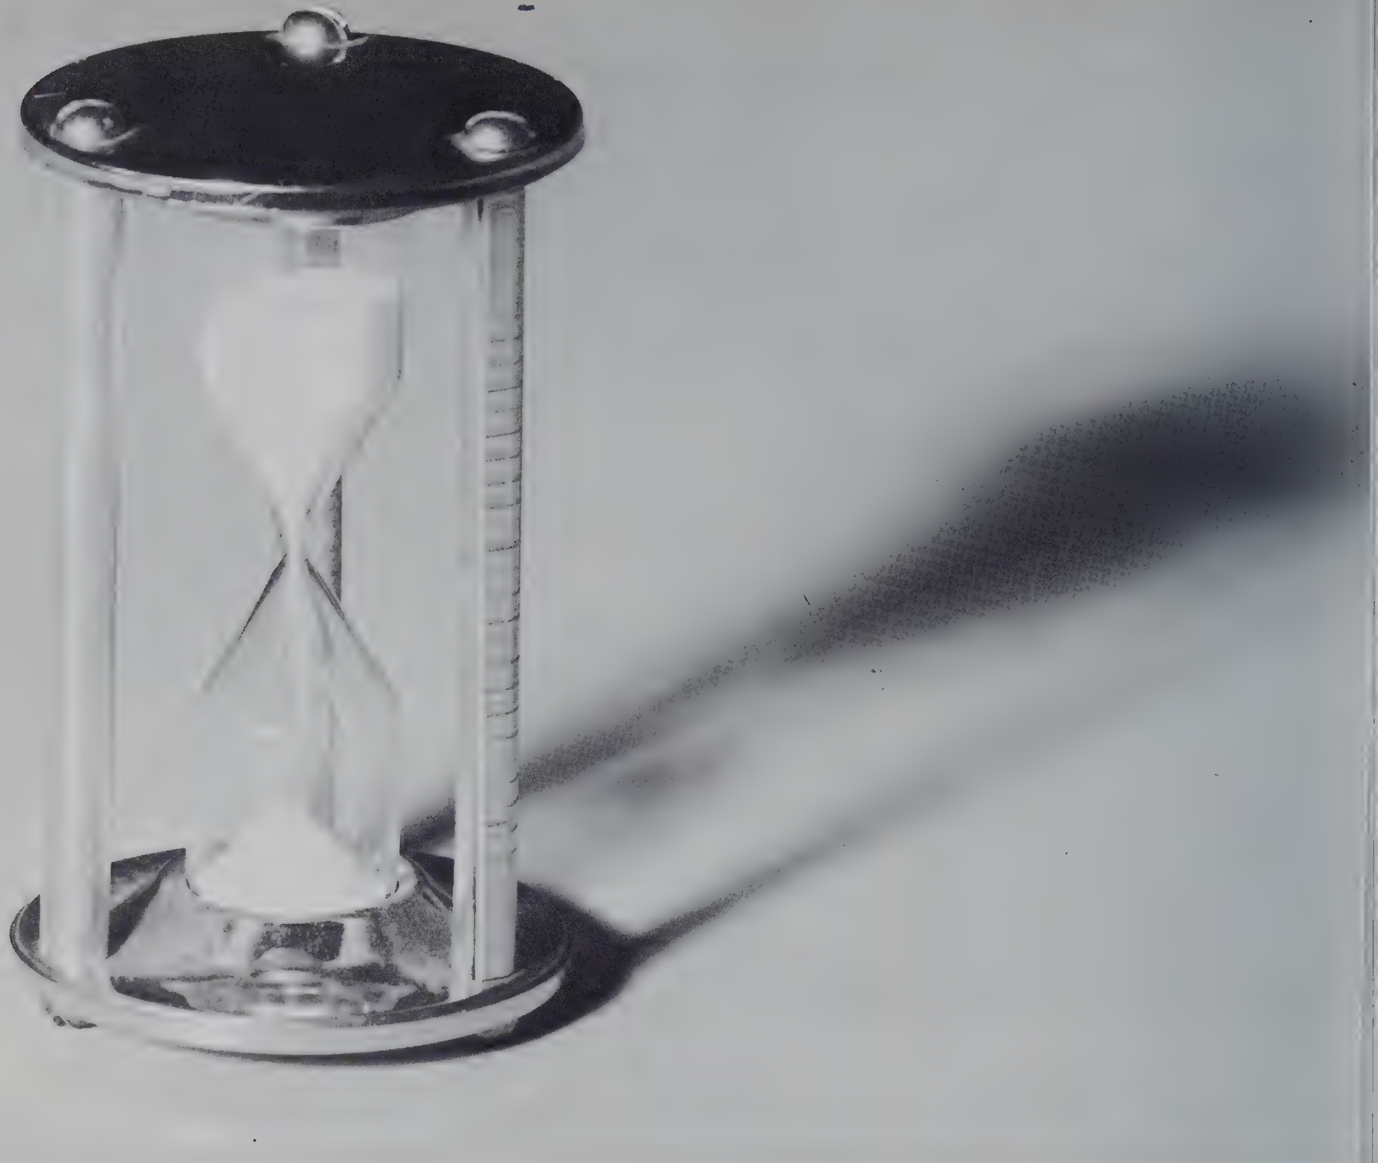
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF



As Time Goes by . . .

The seniors will not look upon 1966 as the end but rather as a beginning. Although twelve years are gone, most of our life is still at the top of the hour glass.

The underclassmen realize that another year will follow the one that is passing. Each of them look forward to their future.

The grains of sand will always flow, and time will continue to go by.
